SHOULD BE REMOVED -On a little street near Main, within a few steps of the Hose House, has been stowed a great pile of iron. It so happens that the to another customer, he went to the door jugged ends of several bars extend into for the ostensible purpose of calling a friend to take another drink, and giving the ground to admit of a man's foot going under them. This iron should be street. The other was after him like a shot; away they went around a corner trunyed at once for it is lable to pile of iron. It so happens that the at once, for it is hable to do mischief at some time or another. Only a few nights ago a man was walking along this street, when his foot caught and was bodly cut. In case of fire, it might be a serious matter if a fireman should be thrown down by this iron and lants, held forth to a small but very seect audience on Lacour street. He when our reporter left, expatiating on the sublime powers of the mind of a very large-headed man, and evolving from his own intellect principles which were cer-tainly new to the world, and deprecating the lack of love for science displayed in Fioche.

PERSONAL-L. P. McCarty, correstific Press and the Pacific Rural Press, San Francisco, came in yesterday by the Hamilton stage. Mr. McCarty's purpose manniton stage. Mr. McCarty's purpose in visiting the leading mining camps on this coast is to collate and put in readable form all possible information in regard to the mining interest. We are sure he will have a good word to say for Pioche. Mr. McCarty is also agent for the Journal of Commerce and Illustrated Press.

FRUIT AND HONRY.-It is with much tion. pleasure that we refer to such a swert grade a subject as fruit and honey. We have subject as fruit and honey. We have just partaken of a box of the former and a dish of the latter, which came to us a dish of the latter, which came to us and delivered to the defendant, the jury gave a verdict in favor of the plaints.

Having and sell goods at the lowest two parts to sell goods at the lowest two parts to sell goods at the lowest two parts to start of the plaints.

COME, SEE, AND BE SATISFIED.

108. M. COSCHINA. with the compliments of J. E. Johnson of the Utah Pomologist. Mr. Johnson has 140 hives of bees, and an extensive or chard. If the honey of the former and the fruit of the latter are all as good as what we received, he may reasonably hope for a good market in Pioche.

FLORAL SPRINGS WATER COMPANY. -- In our advertising columns to-day will be found the regulations of the Floral Springs Water Company, and as every-body is interested in the matter the ad-vertisement will doubtless be very generally read. The Company has in reserve, for use in case of fire, a tank holding 175,000 galions. As the regulations are to be strictly enforced they should be read carefully.

THE BRLLA BIRD TROUPE.—The members of the troupe, as well as Mr. Hanley, proprietor of the hall, in a card which appears this morning, apologize for the exceptional entertainment given on Monday evening. The public may rest assured that no such performance as that of Monday evening meets the approval of the Bella Bird Troupe. The entertainments given by that troupe have always been chaste and unexceptional.

QNLY A KNOCK-DOWN .- Night before last we heard some running on Meadow Valley street. It fact it was for a short time the impression that some one had been shot or stabbed. But to the distant of the crowd it was found to be "on- ya knock-down."

KENO!—Frank Black has removed his keno game to P. J. H. Smith's saloon, Lacour street. Drop in and take a card. Open every evening at 8 o'clock.

A Visit to the County Jail.

The other day, having bern invited to visit the County Jail ,we made our appearance there, and thanks to the kindness of the jailer, Mr. Sweeney, we were shown through the institution. Enter. ing through an iron door, with a grated pigeon hole in the top, we found a room which appeared to us about twelve feet wide, and twenty-five or thirty in length. Our first impression on entering was made by the warm and unhealthy sir, and the crowded state of the prison. The air was almost stifling, and the place literally a dark dungeon, worthy of the cas-tle of some old feudal lord. Sitting, or the of some old feudal lord. Sitting, or reclining on the floor, on beds, stools, and a table, mostly in extreme dishabile— some wearing only their underclothing

—some wearing only their underclothing —were the prisoners. One lank individnal, with all the gravity and drawl of an English swell—but without that animal's dress, for he was attired only in an undershirt, a pair of pants, and a pair of wire bound glasses (minus the glass)— surveyed us from head to foot and made surveyed us from head to foot and made us quite uneasy. Another poor fellow lay on a pile of mattresses, and gazed up at us with a duli and meaningless look as if his mind was gone. Seated around a table were several gambling. The stakes—an enormous pile—were matches, The players were as eager as the bold sports who frolic with the playful "tisports who frolic with the playful "tiger." A short time ago one gambler having run short of matches put up and loat a knife—his sole property and possession—and refused to deliver it to the winner. The other ihad recourse to the laws by which the prisoners enforce order, and replevied the knife. Suit was brought before the judge and jury. The due forms of law being observed, until finally being perplexed by some unusually knotty point, all hands agreed that the best way to settle the matter, and the one best way to settle the matter, and the one which would incur the least expense was to divide it by a game of casino. The suit being brought before this high Court of Chance was decided in favor of the sintiff.

We were next shown the three cells for solitary confinement. They are lined with sheet-iron and admit but very little with sheet-iron and admit but very little light, and are, in fact, the only part of the jail which is safe. In one of these cells a number of glove-boxes, picture-frames, etc., made of paper, by one of the prisoners, and showing a great deal of taste and skill, were pointed out to us. One very pretty picture-frame, of paper-work, contained the photograph of the present Sheriff whom the prisoners seem to like very much. Several of these boxes, etc., are to be sent by the prisoners to the ladies of the Episcopal church as an offering for the Fair, which prisoners to the Indies of the Episcopal church as an offering for the Fair, which is soon to take place.

The prisoners spoke in high terms of those who had them in charge, but they might with good cause have complained of the closeness of their quarters. There are nineteen in the prison, and there is scarcely any ventilation. We learn, however, that the ventilation is to be improved. The state of the init is so improved. The state of the jail is so bad that the first money expended by the county should be for its improve-

A Card

Feeling that an apology is due to the ladies and gentlemen who, together with ourselves, were insulted by the conduct of a party on the stage at the entertainment last evening; we beg leave to state that, had we any idea that any such performance was contemplated, we should not have permitted it, nor taken part in, or countenanced it in any manner. Feeling that this explanation is due to ourselves as well as the public. Respectfully. The Bella Bied Though and K. J. Hanley, Proprietor.

A RACE FOR COIN .-- At half past nine o'clock last night an individual more fond of his drinks than his credit, bought stimulants to the amount of fifty cents in a saloon on lower Main street. He then asked the barkeeper to credit him, which was refused. Having waited till the barkeeper was called away to attend shot; away they went around a corner and into a dark siley, where the flying "bum" was caught. The vender of drinks took his half dollar from, the captive and allowed him to go on his way sorrowing, a poorer and more sober man. SHERWOOD & BRO.,

DISTINGUISHED ARRIVALS FROM THE RURAL DISTRICTS .- Our whilom fellowcitizens, Wright and Upton, arrived in town at a late hour last evening by the fast ox-line from Meadow Valley, where they have been rusticating for the past two weeks or so. They have lost all appreciation of the luxuries peculiar to a great metropolis like Pioche, and when invited to partake of a cocktail betrayed a surprising ignorance of its character, and took a bystander aside to inquire if it was anything of the nature of "valley tan," on which beverage they had probably subsisted during their absence. They discoursed learnedly on the value of eggs—intimated that they had a few dollars in currency to book its content. hars in currency to back their opinion of the weight of a beef "critter"—and it is supposed have it in contemplation to put up a corner on hay. We shall make it a point to interview them early in the morning, and if we succeed in eliciting anything of an interesting nature shall hasten to lay the same before our readers. "Our agricultural interests—they
